

Indigenous Language Revitalization Scholarship Program

Application Package

Last updated: September 2020

The Department of Education, Culture and Employment (ECE) is committed to developing community capacity in Indigenous language revitalization across the Northwest Territories (NWT). Language revitalization refers to any efforts that aim to slow down, stop or reverse the decline of a language, as well as educate, empower and mobilize communities.

Scholarships of $5,000 each will be awarded to NWT students to help students offset the costs of completing a certificate, diploma, degree program, or other training that supports Indigenous language revitalization. Priority will be given to students enrolled in programs offered by accredited post-secondary institutions.

For examples of programs related to Indigenous language revitalization, please see Appendix A.

Completed applications will include the following documents:

- Application Form (A, B & C)
- Letter of Acceptance or confirmation of enrollment in the program
- Information on the program
- Proof of NWT Residency (1 piece)
- Academic Transcripts (if applicable)
- Letter of Intent

Preference will be given to the applicants who clearly indicate in their letter of intent:

- A plan to return to the NWT to pursue a career in Indigenous language revitalization
- A commitment to complete a post-secondary certificate, diploma, or degree that supports language revitalization
- A commitment to language revitalization through prior training, activities, or life experiences
- That they have not previously received this scholarship nor are receiving any other substantial source of financial support

Applicants can apply for this scholarship:

- once for a one year program; or,
- once per 12 month period for multi-year programs.

Applicants must ensure all information is complete and accurate and all requirements listed in Part I of the application are submitted to the Department of ECE by the deadline.

DEADLINE

Applications must be received by December 1st annually. It is the applicant's responsibility to ensure all required documentation is submitted and received prior to the deadline.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

1. Completed APPLICATION FORM (A, B & C)
2. Letter of acceptance, or confirmation of enrollment, from the institution detailing your studies in a program that supports Indigenous language revitalization, specifying the date your studies begin, and the length of the program you are enrolled in. A letter of conditional acceptance or a letter of intent to apply is also acceptable. ECE staff may contact you or academic program staff after your program start date to confirm your attendance.
3. Information about the program. For example, this could include a brochure, a web link, or a print-out of a description of the program from the institution's website.
4. Proof of current NWT residency (legible copy of your NWT Health Card, General Identification Card, and/or Driver's License). You must submit one proof of residency document that will not be expired before the application deadline.
5. A copy of your official or unofficial transcripts from the previous post-secondary academic year (if applicable).
6. A letter of intent, approximately 1-2 pages, which includes all of the following elements:
 - How you expect this program to benefit you and your language revitalization career goals;
 - Why you should be chosen as a recipient of an Indigenous Language Revitalization Scholarship;
 - Why Indigenous language revitalization is important to you, including how you plan to strengthen Indigenous languages in the NWT;
 - Where you aim to live and work after completion of your program; and,
 - A plan and tentative timetable for completing your training, certificate, diploma, or degree program.
7. Must not have received an ILR scholarship in the last 12 months.
